

We truly are a unique university and a unique college of business. Many of our courses have a segment in their course that faculty creates and they actually deal and work with a business entity. Whether it's for profit or non-profit, it doesn't matter, business is business and our students will be assigned to work in a specific project and work in a business to solve an issue for them. And that is the beginnings of inspirational learning. They do it, what they do in the classroom they actually go outside and do it. Our MBA program has a special distinction and that distinction is that we focus on corporate social responsibility; and we are known for it in the region and in the world. We rank among the top 100. We are the only university in the Florida area that has enjoyed this ranking. The two most single indicators or sign of a private college is small class size and interaction between the faculty and student. Both are happening here at the USF St. Petersburg College of Business. That is why I call it a public university with a private touch.
