• Concerned about memory changes? Want a memory check now for future comparison?
• As many as 5.1 million Americans have Alzheimer’s disease, and the prevalence doubles every five years beyond age 65.
• Trained USFSP Psychology students will administer free, confidential, 25-minute memory screenings – a series of questions and tasks – and provide educational materials about memory loss and brain health.
• Screening results are not a diagnosis, and individuals with below-normal scores or who have concerns are encouraged to pursue a full medical examination.
• All results are confidential.
